

Circle the adverb in the sentence below.

The gritty, yellow wind blew constantly.

Underline the subordinate clause.

When I was young, I lived in a city that was mean, hard and ugly.

Complete the sentence with an appropriate conjunction.

To and fro we pulled at that bag _____ at last she spoke.

Underline the relative clause.

I lived by stealing from people, who had as little as I had , in the city.

Add ? Or ! to the following sentences.

What did she mean

What a lot of acorns

Replace the underlined words in the sentence below with the correct pronouns.

When I tried to snatch the lady's bag, the lady held on with the strength of heroes.

Insert inverted commas correctly in the sentences below.

If you promise to plant them, I'll let go , the lady said.

I said , All right, I promise.

Tick one box in each row to show whether the apostrophe is used for possession or as a contraction (omission)

	Possession	Contraction
I didn't understand
The girl's promise
The city's streets
I'll let go

Circle the prepositions in the following sentence.

I planted beside roads, among rubble, ruins and railings.

Add commas correctly in the sentences below.

I stared at the acorns so green so perfect so many and then I understood.

They were planting trees and flowers fruit and vegetables in parks gardens and on balconies.

Write the underlined verbs in the past tense.

I forget the food and money and for the first time in my life I feel lucky. I sleep with the acorns under my pillow. In the morning, I begin to keep my promise.

Tick the correct use of the apostrophe.

old lady's bag
old ladie's bag
old ladies' bag

Tick whether the sentence is a statement, question, command or exclamation.

	Statement	Question	Command	Exclamation
How lovely are the trees
I Promise to plant the acorns
I was already far away, planting in another sorry city
What would I find in the bag				